PRESS RELEASE

Banca Popolare di Sondrio launches its new institutional website, available on:
istituzionale.popso.it.

Banca Popolare di Sondrio informs that from today, in conjunction with the historic 150th anniversary of its foundation, the new institutional website is online, available on istituzionale.popso.it. The web portal ensures an intuitive and pleasant browsing experience and is also easily accessible from smartphones and tablets. In addition to the home page, five thematic sections are offered: Profile, Governance, Investor relations, Sustainability, Press Releases and Events. The site also provides the email alert service which, upon registration, promptly notifies of new bank's press releases.

Alongside general information on the origin and history of the institution, the web portal devotes ample space to the aforementioned sections. This new proposal, aimed at supporting institutional and financial communication, is going to increase the already rich online presence of Banca Popolare di Sondrio, started in 1995 with the website www.popso.it which, from today, will be mainly dedicated to commercial promotion. Over the years, BPS has developed many other publicly available online initiatives. We recall, among the most significant, the Art Gallery www.popsoarte.it which enhances and disseminates the artistic heritage of the bank and the nonsolobanca.popso.it web portal which brings together proposals aimed at leisure time (trekking itineraries, cycling), cultural and editorial activities (including "Il Notiziario", prestigious quarterly on culture, economy and current affairs, which can also be consulted on a tablet). Finally, it should also be mentioned the web portal www.popsoimmobili.it, created to facilitate the marketing of properties both owned by the bank and by third parties. The Internet offer is completed by the many and increasingly popular digital banking services that allow customers to operate independently and at any time.
