Fitch Rates Sondrio's Senior Preferred Notes Final 'BBB-'

Fitch Ratings-Milan/London-29 March 2019: Fitch Ratings has assigned Banca Popolare di Sondrio's (Sondrio) EUR500 million 2.375% five-year senior preferred bond issue due 2024 (ISIN: XS1975757789) a final long-term rating of 'BBB-'.

The final rating is in line with the expected rating Fitch assigned to the notes on 21 March 2019 (see "Fitch Rates Sondrio's Planned Senior Preferred Notes Issue 'BBB-(EXP)'" at www.fitchratings.com).

KEY RATING DRIVERS

Sondrio's EUR500 million senior preferred notes, issued under the bank's EUR5 billion EMTN programme, is rated in line with the bank's 'BBB-' Long-Term Issuer Default Rating (IDR). Fitch views the likelihood of default on the notes the same as the likelihood of default of the bank. Under its criteria, Fitch requires a high burden of proof to notch senior debt up or down from a bank's Long-Term IDR based on recovery prospects, particularly at high rating levels. This is because the structure of a bank's balance sheet is likely to be very different at the point of failure.

For the senior preferred notes to achieve a one-notch uplift over the bank's Long-Term IDR, the buffer of qualifying junior debt and senior non-preferred debt would need to exceed our estimate of a 'recapitalisation amount', which we currently estimate to be around the bank's fully loaded minimum pillar 1 Tier 1 capital requirement of 6%. Sondrio has no outstanding senior non-preferred debt and we estimate its qualifying junior debt buffer at just above 2% of its risk-weighted assets at end-2018. As a result, the protection afforded by senior preferred debt through this buffer is not sufficient to grant a single-notch uplift above the bank's Long-Term IDR.

RATING SENSITIVITIES

The senior preferred debt rating is sensitive to changes in the bank's IDR. The rating is also sensitive to a significant increase in the bank's qualifying buffer of junior and senior non-preferred debt, especially if this exceeds its recapitalisation amount.

Fitch conducts a reasonable investigation of the factual information relied upon by it in accordance with its ratings methodology, and obtains reasonable verification of that information from independent sources, to the extent such sources are available for a given security or in a given jurisdiction. The manner of Fitch's factual investigation and the scope of the third-party verification it obtains will vary depending on the nature of the rated security and its issuer, the requirements and practices in the jurisdiction in which the rated security is offered and sold and/or the issuer is located, the availability and nature of relevant public information, access to the management of the issuer and its advisers, the availability of pre-existing third-party verifications such as audit reports, agreed-upon procedures letters, appraisals, actuarial reports, engineering reports, legal opinions and other reports provided by third parties, the availability of independent and competent third-party verification sources with respect to the particular security or in the particular jurisdiction of the issuer, and a variety of other factors. Users of Fitch's ratings and reports should understand that neither an enhanced factual investigation nor any third-party verification can ensure that all of the information Fitch relies on in connection with a rating or a report will be accurate and complete. Ultimately, the issuer and its advisers are responsible for the accuracy of the information they provide to Fitch and to the market in offering documents and other reports. In issuing its ratings and its reports, Fitch must rely on the work of experts, including independent auditors with respect to financial statements and attorneys with respect to legal and tax matters. Further, ratings and forecasts of financial and other information are inherently forward-looking and embody assumptions and predictions about future events that by their nature cannot be verified as facts. As a result, despite any verification of current facts, ratings and forecasts can be affected by future events or conditions that were not anticipated at the time a rating or forecast was issued or affirmed.

Fitch receives fees from issuers, insurers, guarantors, other obligors, and underwriters for rating securities. Such fees generally vary from US$1,000 to US$750,000 (or the applicable currency equivalent) per issue. In certain cases, Fitch will rate all or a number of issues issued by a particular issuer, or insured or guaranteed by a particular insurer or guarantor, for a single annual fee. Such fees are expected to vary from US$10,000 to US$1,500,000 (or the applicable currency equivalent). Fitch Ratings, Inc. is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission as a Nationally Recognized Statistical Rating Organization (the "NRSRO"). While certain of the NRSRO's credit rating subsidiaries are listed on Item 3 of Form NRSRO and as such are authorized to issue credit ratings on behalf of the NRSRO (see <https://www.fitchratings.com/site/regulatory>), other credit rating subsidiaries are not listed on Form NRSRO (the "non-NRSROs") and therefore credit ratings issued by those subsidiaries are not issued on behalf of the NRSRO. However, non-NRSRO personnel may participate in determining credit ratings issued by or on behalf of the NRSRO.

ENDORSEMENT POLICY - Fitch's approach to ratings endorsement so that ratings produced outside the EU may be used by regulated entities within the EU for regulatory purposes, pursuant to the terms of the EU Regulation with respect to credit rating agencies, can be found on the EU Regulatory Disclosures page. The endorsement status of all International ratings is provided within the entity summary page for each rated entity and in the transaction detail pages for all structured finance transactions on the Fitch website.
